PASO HERALD II. 1881. The El Paso Herald includes also, by absorption and the Daily News, The Telegraph, The Telegram, The Tribune, traphic. The Sun, The Advertiser, The Independent, The Journal, The Republican, The Bulletin.

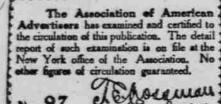

MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS AND AMER. NEWSP. PUBLISHERS' ASSOC Entered at the El Paso Postoffice for Transmission at Second Class Rates.

Daily Herald, per month, 60c; per year, $7. Weekly Herald, per year, $2. The Daily Herald is delivered by carriers in El Paso, East El Paso, Fort Biss and Towne, Texas, and Cludad Juarez, Mexico, at 60 cents a month.

A subscriber desiring the address on his paper changed will please state in his communication both the old and the new address.

COMPLAINTS. Subscribers falling to get The Herald promptly should call at the office or telephone No. 115 before 6:30 p. m. All complaints will receive prompt attention.

The Herald bases The Heraid bases all advertising contracts on a guarantee of more than twice the circulation of any other El Paso. Arizona, New Mexico or west Texas paper. Daily averses 10.

ELING AGENTS. Persons solicited to subscribe for The Herald should heware of imposters and should not pay money to anyone unless he can show that he is legally author-

An Age Of High Living

HE cost of living naturally continues the leading topic of discussion since it is about the most important one in the existence of the people of the United States and the world in general.

But have we stopped to consider that we are living at a rate that ought to cost? It is a fact that it is a lot more expensive to live today than it was ten years ago, but don't we demand more now than we did then? Yes, and a great deal more. It is a fact that we pay some more today than we did ten years ago for any commodity of an equal quality purchased at that time, but we are not satisfied today with the goods that our parents and uncles and aunts were glad to have even ten years ago. This is one of the elements of importance and the greatest one entering into the cost of living today.

Secretary Wilson declares that everybody wants the porterhouse and tenderloin steaks and there is no sale for the chuck meat any more, hence the people must pay for the whole beef when they get their choice cuts. Another man remarks that it used to be that people were willing to eat dumplings and some of the brown meat of a chicken, whereas at present everybody wants white meat fried or baked and dumplings are an unknown quantity, and so it goes, all too true.

This is where a great deal of the responsibility rests for the increased cost of living. The trusts have got in their work in the meantime, and, the trusts and our own appetities satiated, the cost of living is aviationary to say the least-

An editorial in "The World Today" for March has this to say on the cost of

We have ceased to be thrifty. The nearest approach most of us make to that virtue is to get our banks to let us overdraw our account,

The fathers have eaten grapes and the children are eating grape-fruit. We used to buy apples by the barrel; now we buy them as we would buy jewels, each in its separate wrapper. We used to eat pot roasts; now we must have porterhouse steaks. Our wives used to help the general housework girl with the cooking; now we need two maids, a laundress and a man to wash windows. When we were boys we did chores and wore our father's old clothes; nowadays the American boy needs an allowance, stockings that match his neckties and a tuxedo jacket. We used to think it an extravagance to keep a hundred-and-fifty-dollar horse and a hundred-dollar buggy; now we buy an automobile and mortgage our house to pay

"Easy come, easy go," was the old motto; "Easy come, gone before it comes,"

One chief cause of high prices is trust-our creditor's trust. Everybody wants to sell us something and charge it to our account. So we accommodate them and for thought in the executive sessions, training is displayed. No member of trees. acquire a habit of reckless expenditure. What difference does it make whether eggs are 35 cents or 80 cents a dozen if we do not have to pay cash for them? We are spendthrifts in the midst of a credit system orgy. When we sober up, prices will

Today Texas is 74 years old. Rather strong and healthy for her age,

Say what you want in a want ad and you will get results-if you put it where it is read, which means The Herald, of course.

"Fifty thousand broilers stolen," says a newspaper heading, and just as the Johnnies get interested they find that it was only a chicken roost that was raided-nothing to do with the show business at all.

A Connecticut minister says bad boys grow up to be better citizens than good boys do. Then, according to the opinion of many El Pasoans, we are going to have a mighty lot of fine citizens in this town some day.

Texas Republicans

ECIL LYON is used to those "opposition" Republican meetings. If there wasn't one every year, Cecil would consult a medium to see what the trouble was,

The Democrats are down on Cecil Lyon, "Republican boss of Texas." They say he is such a decent chap that he is hurting the Democratic party more than any chairman the Republicans have ever had.

For the same reason, the "reform" Republicans are probably after his scalp. They will have to show something they have done for the party in Texas, however, before Mr. Lyon puts his official head under the political guilotine, Aviation is no longer a flight of fancy.

The best and surest way to get money is to work for it.

"Honesty is the best policy," but some insurance agents don't think so, judging from some of the things they say about their companies to try to get a man in.

Peary has consented to show his North Pole proofs to the Royal Geographical societies of England and Italy. Let us hope he doesn't Cook up any data for

If all the promised and predicted smelters are built in the southwest in the next few months, there will be enough smoke to obscure the sky. But with all that, there is mineral enough to keep them going.

Texas needs an irrigation law and the suggestions advanced by M. L. Swinehart in Saturday's Herald are worthy of every man's consideration. Mr. Swinehart is president of the Texas Irrigation congress, recently formed.

"He who laughs last, laughs best" was demonstrated when the automobilist guffawed at the man whose team he frightened and then had the humility of watching the same man pass him after he had run into a nest of broken bottles-

With the knowledge and proof that it has twice the circulation of any paper published in the southwest-a legitimate circulation gained because it is the best paper in the southwest-The Herald has a right to feel a bit proud of its dictinction. But this hasn't led The Herald into the error of thinking that it is as good a paper as it shall be; every day plans are being drawn for making The Herald still better, and they are not only drawn, but they are put into execution.

El Paso is starting out the year with a shortage of moisture just as she did last year. We only had 0.10 of an inch of rain during the month just closed, while the average for February is 0.46 according to the records of the weather man. In January we had 0.21 of an inch, making a total of 0.31 for the two months, or less than a third of an inch of rain. We ought to have had 0.97 of an inch during the two months the way Col. Lane figures things, so we are short 0.66 of an inch. Hurry up the rain machine, colonel; it is crop time, you know.

TNCLE WALT'S Denatured Poem

HROUGH fifty years of toiling, of struggling and of moiling, through good and evil sledding, they reached their golden wedding. Through fifty years of striving, now beaten down, now thriving; of sowing and of reaping, of laughter and of weeping; together forward treading, they reached their golden wedding. They're old, their heads are bending, they're near the journey's ending; the gloom of night advances, but peace is in their glances; they lived and loved together, in fair and stormy weather, and arm in arm they'll wander, to Eden, over yonder. This picture's most elating, since all the world is skating to Reno, Nevada, the modern El Dorado. Out there the whole world hurries, in airships and in sur-reys, on wheels and riding horses, for bargain-sale divorces. O, wedding vows are sickly! The law can break them quickly; the law your bonds unlooses on any old excuses. When tired of going double, some cash will end the trouble. And when life's day grows chilly, and you are old and silly, you'll have no golden wedding, no loved one with you treading; you'll count the brides you married, who with you briefly tarried; the Janes and Nells and Bessies, the Lauras, Sues and Capyright, 1909, by George Matthews A dams.

THE GOLDEN WEDDING

Walk Mason

WHO IS GRAHAM? HE IS GRAHAM; THAT'S WHO GRAHAM IS: SABE?

investigating committee because the house organization would not accept leally and otherwise, in 19 lines.

The trouble with Mr. Kahn is that he is too modest. He has left out of it is becoming less and less necessary his autobiography the most interesting but has proved at the left of the lef be found in the house; a man who selling platers.

When the Democratic esucus of the tremely modest about what they wrate about themselves for publication in the house selected James M. Graham, of congressional directory. Take the case of Julius Kahn, of California, for into ask that question now. The Demo-crafs seem to have uncovered a man who would make reading which would make perhaps one of the ablest lawyers all the other autobiographers look like has the courage of his convictions; who Mr. Kahn, evidently, wants to forget regards a senator as he would regard that portion of his life—or wants the he wants to make a good job of it. If time than it takes to tell about it. he does not like the manner in which counsel is conducting the examination, he says so in a manner that permits of does not want to remind his constitu-Mr. Graham has been giving his asso-ciates on the committee plenty of food speech in the house that his early any other mortal in this vale of tears, people to forget it—which was the and who says what he pleases when he most interesting. The fact of the matter is that Kahn used to be an actor. Mr. Graham, as a member of the in- He still wears flowing hair, and with vestigating committee, has demon-strated that when he is trying a case up to look like "Gus" Rogers in less ut one understanding. The mere fact ents forever and forever about his days that the senators on the other side of —and nights—behind the footlights. He table disagree with him does not want to be regarded as a funny bother Mr. Graham. If reports are true, man so long as he remains in political

Democrats to frame the minority report before his desk and says:

of the investigating committee. Mr. Graham is a native of the Emerald Isle. He began teaching school in Illinois when 21 years old, and while and present indications are that he is that body, however polished as an orathe man who will be selected by the tor, can equal Mr. Kahn when he stands "Ah, my countrymen," etc., etc., etc.,

With his long curly locks, a placed above the area where his heart beats, and inflections of the voice which teaching began the study of law. He would do credit to David Warfield, Mr. served one term in the Illinois house Kahn is a picture-sque sight. But Mr. and was elected state's attorney for Kahn does not want to talk about be-Sangamon county. He is serving his ing an actor, and so-everybody talks

Great Minds Always Taught Tenderness To the Animals

A Plea for the Dog and Kindness to "Man's Best Friend" of the animal is to be made, something ald by "Woman Dog Owner."

Editor El Paso Herald.

The condition of the animal calls for consideration. A far reaching sympascavenger, wild and feared, tolerated says; only for its use. Man gradually tamed it called for humane treatment; now earth." Eccl. 3:21. that it looks to us as its master and loves us, we must respond. Love is a life of his heast." Prov. 12:10. divine attribute and we have proof emory as to data in some cases.

Elizabeth Stuart Phelps has written pathetic little story of a dog and a tions-organizations, schools, Read it; it will help you.

John Ruskin says: and you must not be cruel. God disany other."

Abraham Lincoln said: "I must go essiy crush a worm." His apprecia-

Alexander Stephens: "No, I could not without crying." This man's physical weakness did not bespeak mental or to cruelty. moral inactivity. Here is proof: am afraid of nothing on earth, or about the earth, or under the earth, except to do wrong. The path of duty I shall ever endeavor to travel, fearing no evil and dredding no consequences." you have read this bright man's life, you know how kind he was to animals, how intelligent they were taught by him. Our animals are what we make

Shakspere, with his beloved bound; the frijoles game

! Dickens with his affectionate cat that We are glad that an effort in behalf persistently brought her babes to his birch-bark, slippery elm and shoewriting table to be admired and cadone, as spoken of in Saturday's Her- friend of animals, are 4 few of the ity is far antedated. Christopher Coressed; Henry Grady, always a fond great men who were kind. An extract from an article will appeal to our humanity.

than the dog-humane on all lines. We wild animals, declares that "the inall doubtiess know that the responsi- stinct of danger which some of them possess is so extraordinary that it real- | to the new world. bility of the dog's position in our homes | ly seems as if there must be an angel rests with man; dog was domesticated who warns and protects the wild by him. Long ago the dog was but a things." Then here is what the bible

"Who knoweth the spirit of man that goeth upward, and the spirit of the In its earliest and worst condition, beast that goeth downward to the

"The righteous man regardeth the

Is it not strange that humanity needs of the affection of our animals. Should humane education. It seems our own we not give them care, feed, water, shrinking from pain, hunger, thirst and baths, comfortably bed and make hap- ills resulting from neglect, would lead py these dumb friends? Nor do I hold us into kind consideration of our anithese views alone. A grand galaxy of mals. As to the danger accruing from et for Tuesday at 2 p. m., and the crimcultured men and women bear me com- hydrophobia, I echo the experience of pany. I will mention a few. If I err one given in your paper, that a well morning. please set me right, as I depend upon cared for animal will not suffer this much dreaded disease.

We are on the move to better condicalled "Jonathan and David," and personal labors are tending towards betterment. "Whatever else some schools (in Chicago, I think) you may be you must not be useless, certain time is given to teaching kindness to animals. Fifteen states have likes idle and cruel people more than humane education laws, leaving 31 to follow.

If our day schools, Sunday schools back and belp that hog out of the and homes would enter into this "Heart Culture" more heartily, how much sug-William Cowper: "I would not trust fering would be avoided. As the suman who would with his foot need- perior, shall we exercise the coward's privilege of kicking, heating, overloadtion of God's creatures inspired the log and neglecting the animals in our poem, "The Dog and the Water Lily," hands. No. Cruelty is traceable to ignorance and selfishness. Let us be just, kind and patient, thereby teaching huok at the poor thing (wounded bird) manity and making our own lives better by trying to minimize the tendency

From Chihuahua (Mex.) Enterprise. The El Paso Herald suggests seeing governor Creel about that little game which they play over in Juarez with frijoles on a card. Even the El Paso with discharge to keep 'em away from

Chewing Gum Industry

GUM CHEWING A HABIT FOR AGES: CHICLE DISCOVERED IN MEXICO

Frederic J. Haskin

N EARLY three billion sticks of gold as they would need, as many chewing gum will be manufactured in the United States as their navy would require year, and most of it will be chewed as fast as it is made. There are numerous factories scattered throughout country, and it is said that few industries show greater cleanliness of operation than is the rule in the American chewing gum establishment. A report of the department of commerce and labor declares that the second-cleanest factory of any kind inspected by that department was one where chewing

How It Is Made. The process by which the gum is made is full of interest. Its basis is chicle gum, and this is boiled to the required consistency in copper kettles, after which is added the flavoring and the necessary sugar to give it sweet-gum was made,

It is then transferred to large centrifugal receivers, whipped into dough and then removed to tables where it is kneaded in powdered sugar. After this It is rolled into sheets, cut to the destred size, dried, wrapped by machinery and placed in boxes for marketing. Repeated attempts have been made to mix or adulterate chicle, or to get a substitute for it, but there seems to be po substitute except spruce gum, about 15,000 pounds of which are gathered in the woods of Maine each year. course this is a mere drop in the bucket compared with the amount of chicle brought into the United States from Chicle is not medicinally valuable, but has proved an excelent vehicle for carrying such drugs as pepsin. A Britsh court has held pepsin chewing gum to be a drug, and under the English pure-drug act a druggist was fined for selling some that contained less pepsin than was called for by the label. The mastication that goes with chewing gum produces a flow of saliva which is highly beneficial in certain forms of stomach trouble. While gum chewing has been principally an American habit, the people of other countries are becoming initiated to its delights. A big American manufacturer estimates that the United States produces enough annually to give sticks to each man, woman and child on earth Imported from Tropics.

Chicle comes to us from tropical America at the rate of more than 5,000,-000 pounds a year, and costs in the raw state about $2,000,000 annually. The tree which bears it is to be found in the dense forests of the tropics. operation in its gathering is not dissimilar to that of gathering maple syrup in the United States.

A chicle gatherer has little more equipment than the versatile machete and a piece of rope. He places the rope around his waist and the trunk of the tree, which enables him to scale it as conveniently as a telephone lineman goes up a pole with the aid of climbers. He makes notches in the tree into which the sap flows. Later he comes around and gathers it, securing from 10 to 15 pounds a day in the height of the season. A tree may be tapped

An effort is being made by the growers to induce the men to work by the week, as their ambition to make good wages by the so-much-per-pound sysem has resulted in great harm to the Yield of the Trees.

Planted 400 to the acre, the trees from $3 to $15 per acre. The wood redow frames made of it are still in an can buy gum at all prices from five excelent state of preservation in the cents a package down to one cents for prehistoric ruins of Mexico. It is in | five sticks.

the hardest sort of a fight when the On the other hand, berry growers fur-Payne-Aldrich bill was framed. Habit of Long Standing.

The chewing of gum is by no means a new habit. Our fathers chewed maker's wax years upon years ago, lumbus left behind him a letter which proves conclusively that chewing gum Ernest Thompson Seaton, who has that he regarded it as of sufficient im- 50,000,000 five cent pleecs to meet the o the new world.

He offered to bring them as much Tomorrow—See Lebelle 1 and Isabella as a part of his inducement to them to finance his second expedition

he said, was to come from Chios, and chewing gum of Columbus's day was

But the habit of chewing gam may be our expense? traced even beyond Columbus's time. According to an ancient Sanskrit poem the soft-eyed Hindoo maiden, even in the times when the Arvan sun-worshippers were a budding people, had the babit of chewing "kashnir" gums, which were supposed to sweeten the breath, redden the lips and put color into the cheeks.

Chicle in Mexico. The story of the discovery of the T-bone availability of chicle for chewing pur-acquired by our people. Back in the fortles a young man country and then returned home. When while the sun shines. Santa Anna was banished from Texas, he went to New York, looked up the young friend of his better days and, it is said, lived with him incognito for some time. During his stay he suggested to his host that the sap of a certain Mexican tree might be made into gum overshoes. When he returned to Mexico he sent a bale of raw, hard gum for experimentation. The effort to prepare the stuff for gum shoes was a fallure, and a big chunk of it was relegated to the woodshed as use-

Fortunes Made in Gum.

But the boys of the neighborhood oon set aside the "useless" verdict. They began whittling off pieces of the gum for chewing purposes. a suggestion to the father and he again got out his kettle paraphernalia. This time he made it into unflavored gum and placed it upon the market. By doing so he laid the foundation of a princely fortune.

The next proposition was to get flavoring into the gum. This was a task to which the embryo chewing-gum millionaire was not equal, so he employed an Englishman, .who was an amateur chemist, to conduct a series of experiments for him. The chemist borrowed $200 from outside sources and with this perfected the original process of flavoring chicle gum.

From that time the success of the hewing gum business was assured. Today those boys, who taught their father the secret of utilizing the old junk in his woodshed, are millionaires. Before they gave him the tip that was to develop into a great fortune, he was doing odd jobs around Jersey City.

From this small beginning has grown a business which amounts to more than $30,000,000 a year. It has made millionaires of more familles than this one, and has helped to pay the rent of thousands of stores, small and large, from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Factories Sell to Trade. Some of the big factories of today sell their own gum to the trade. Others and advertise to make gum in any quantity and in sticks of any size, prepared ready for the wrapper. In this way yield 2000 pounds of gum annually, any person who is willing to pay for the expense of manufacture can put a brand of his own on the market and sembles manogany, and door and win- tempt millions to come his way. One great demand by cabinet-makers. The it is said that while the aggregate tree grows to maturity in a little less sales of chewing gum are growing because of the increase of the habit, in When the sap is gathered it has a rural districts, the competition of the milky appearance which changes to yel- nickelodeon and other rivals for chillow when exposed to the air. It is dren's pin-money is seriously felt in loaves and made adopted, it would mean ruin to cents a pound, and was laid only after ed from chewing gum while on duty. to give them a happy frame of mind while pursuing their work.

Gum Slot Machines. The advent of the chewing gum slot machine as an automatic salesman did more to stimulate a demand for pennies and nickels than any other agency except the street car.

It now requires an annual supply of about 100.000,000 pennies and more than thy, a broader scope, embracing more spent years in watching the lives of portance to offer some to Ferdinand demands of the trade. It is said that the penny works oftener in buying

To-

(From The Herald of this date, 1896)

COUNTY COURT OPENS TERM

The Lone Star flag floats from the do the work on the six inch pipe. ourthouse today in commemoration of Texas independence. The Confederate Veterans hold their inal docket for 9 o'clock the following

W. A. Walter has prepared a plan for the groposed monument to presi-dent Benito Juarez, of Mexico, which will be erected in the sister city. Col. E. W. S. Neff addressed the Y.

M. C. A. yesterday. C. F. Parker, who took Harry Flato's Schwartz & Freat & Weil, in place as city ticket agent in this city, has resigned, and will return to the Golden state next Wednesday. His Metal market—Silver, 681-2c; lead, place will be taken here by H. N. Par-

Sigfried Arenstein leaves tonight on three months' tour of Germany. Nothing has been heard of Miss Shipev, who was reported missing in St. Louis some time ago.

Deputy sheriff J. C. Jones is wearing a sunny smile on account of the arand the other a girl.

Alex. Hill, the mayor's cook, was arrested last night on a charge of whip-ping his wife, and the mayor had to cook his own breakfast this morning. Pat Garrett has started on the trail From Winslow (Ariz.) Mail, of the murderers of Col. A. J. Fountain nd his son.

The McGinty band practices tonight, cari will no doubt soon be presenting when the new selection, "The Monas- their claims for consideration, Judge Hunter opened court this tery Bells," presented by Mrs. D. W. morning, when he set the probate dock- Reckhart, will be played. Col. Ritter expects to resume work on the artesian well this afternoon, having found a drill in town that will There are 100 refrigerator cars in the Southern Pacific yards that are going west at the rate of 40 or 50 cars The grocery firm of Mueller & Kachor has been dissolved, and Kachler will continue in business alone at the same Recorder Clark has fined district at torney W. C. McGown $105 for packing a gun on Feb. 3 last.

$3.12; copper, 10 1-fc; Mexican pesos,

NOTHING STRANGE ABOUT THAT. rom Globe (Ariz.) Silver Bel Paulhan has been enjoined from fly-ing in El Paso. Nothing strange about

but. The county jail is well filled with en in a similar predicament.

KNOCK, AND YOU KNOCK ALONE. If you come to Taiban to laugh, we'll laugh with you; but if you come b

SOUNDS GOOD FROM YOU, WINSLOW

El Paso had another aviation ex-

The Tired Business Man

Tells Friend Wife Tont Low Humor Makes High Prices. BY WALTER A. SINCLAIR.

WOULD make fun of the farmer and now look at the high prices," Friend Wife. it has been reasoned from this that the man telling the Ohio legislative committee that jokes at the farmer's exa sort of gummy clay, which was re- pense caused higher cost of living at puted to have medicinal qualities.

"Low human makes high prices," commented the Tired Business Man. "Laugh and the prices grow fat. get the last langh, because it will be the last laugh very quickly if the farmer gets piqued and puts the prices up so high that there won't be a laugh left in us. It's the first time I ever knew that there was a sympathetic nerve between the funnybone and the

Il suppose because farmers are supposes reads like a romance and in- posed to be so horny handed that they volves some of the leading characters are thin skinned. Otherwise this man of American history. If Gen. Sam Hous- wouldn't say that because comic supps on had not banished Santa Anna from print side splitting pictures of farm-Texas, or if the attempt to make gum ers being kicked through the roof by shoes from chicle had not proved a the pet bee and stung by the family fallure, the chewing gum habit as cows their sons become ashamed of the America knows it, might not have been | honest profession of rubing and hit for the metrolleypusses. It seems that while the old man has to stand it, the from New Jersey went to Mexico, where boy comes to town, where he can wear he made the acquaintance of Santa a celluloid collar-and be a shine in Anna. He spent some time in that society. Hence the old man makes hay

"Do you actually helleve that the high cost of living is due to the farms being deserted by the young men who can't pick up a comic paper without seeing some picture of a Jasper with his facial foliage inhabited by birds and field mice buying a gold brick from a handsome city chap with polished manners and fingernalls? Just because the comics always show the smart city nephew putting up tricks on the old yap, does that offset those thousands in the bank and the good-as-gold grain in the granary? It goes against the grain's price to believe it. "I notice these same comic artists depicting the packers with steers's horns or pigs's faces and hoofs and paunches, but I fall to hear of any sensitive sons of the stockyards barons breaking away from the old absttofr to be be-milliners or muckraking magazine aristocrats. "The farmer boy doesn't come to the city to be a glass crash in society and wear mortised evening coats on a princely stipend of seven per, thus cutting down the army of farmers to numbers that can combine If old Peacefarm with a side line of porterhouse or the hoof. Pick up any magazine and you'll see some article about the modern farmer, illustrated by photographs showing a grange meeting of these old havseeds that looks like a Vanderbilt cup race, there are so many automogoing to give up a six cylinder car, the heritage of a gold mine wheat field. carried to the bolling sheds where it is the cities. If the practices of the and the right to leave his collar off six concentrated to the proper consistency, chewing gum factory were generally days in the week for the doubtful advantage of a hall bedroom resembling ready for export. The duty on it is 10 business. The operatives are prohibit- a coffin, a chance to stand up in a subway or elevated car to and from work daily, and a weekly chance at the nish their pickers with gum in order boarding house bath tub if he puts in his application a week in advance, then he deserves to believe all he sees > in the comic supplement. "What do the farmers do to offset !!? There are plenty of city chaps being urged to go to the farm. If they go but there in vacation time it's no S day supplement humor, but a Mondayto-Saturday comic for theirs. The humorous yeomanry send the unfortunate youth for 'left handed monkeywrencaes,' long walks across sunbrolled fields for 'stray oil,' and as a good, slambang climax, what the comic artists call 'the crash,' he is induced to milk the cow from the wrong side. Business of city chap being dispersed over the neighboring landscape, and one would-be farmer discouraged forever. If any milk is kicked over in the excitement, the price goes up. The city chap may descend to earth, but "

prices stay up." "Is there no hope?" asked Friend "Sure," said the Tired Business Man. "With the farmers boosting prices tae comic artists will soon die of starva-

Copyright, 1910, by the New York Evening Telegram (New York Herald ompany.) All rights reserved.

THE AUTOMATIC BOOR.

To-date, and then some more. Hast ridden in her brand new car With automatic door? have; and shall remember till

El Paso leads in all that's up-

I reach the other shore

My first surprised encounter with The automatic door. I thought to swing on moving car, As oft I'd done before:

The automatic door. My hat fell off, my glasses broke, And ——! but I was sore As that proud car sped swiftly by missed the step and bumped into

With automatic door. The specified "full-stop;" And lost a minute waiting for

The rear-end step to drop. My street was called, the car "full stopped,"

And then, somebody swore: For no one on that car could budge The automatic door,

And there I was imprisoned, and My sweetheart waiting for Her lover to embrace her, Dash, The automatic door!